*We, of the Cauldron Board have endeavored to make this yearbook
a suitable companion for our classmates through all the years to come.*

*It is our hope that twenty years from now, the 1942 Cauldron will do a masterful job in summoning up new

Our best efforts are in this book. May it bring as much pleasure to our classmates as it did to us.

We, the Class of 1942, dedicate our yearbook to the men who would have graduated with us had not they joined the armed forces of the United States.

To them, the vanguard of our Class, we ask that the blessings of God be with them as they strive to perform to the best of their abilities, the assignment asked of them.

GERALD R. TATTON

Born August 26, 1906 in Winchester, Gerald Russell Tatton moved to Medford early in his childhood and was educated in the Medford Public Schools. Graduating from Medford High School with the Class of 1924, he entered Northeastern University the following September and was graduated with honors with a B.A. degree in 1928. He was the nineteenth person to be inducted into the Sigma Society.

Appointed to the faculty staff during the following summer, Mr. Tatton assumed the duties of instructor of advertising and assistant Track Coach. He brought his first two freshman track teams through their seasons undefeated.

When the class of 1942 entered Northeastern Professor Tatton was appointed Head Track Coach. Last year, the first team which he had mentored for four years, went through the season undefeated in dual meets. A similar undefeated record is held this year.

Professor Tatton received his B.S. at Northeastern and his M.B.A. at Boston University. He married Thelma Henderson and is father of a boy aged nine and a girl aged five.

As bewildered Freshmen not fully oriented to the University, we admired Gerry Tatton. In his first chat in Bates Hall he talked straight—told us briefly what he had to say, and sat down.

Through a myriad of class meetings his guiding voice brought conflicting forces together into a permanent unity. He never forbade anything—he just advised. His unobtrusive interjection into the discussion—"Look, fellows, here's what I suggest."—was always appreciated and usually carried out.

As Seniors, scholastically and socially more mature, we salute the man who contributed immeasurably toward that development—Professor Gerald Tatton.

SENIOR DEAN'S LIST

Schedules are remarkable devices, for, if they are maintained, objectives are accomplished, almost imperceptibly, while workers are more concerned with the more immediate problems.

Absorbed with the intent of gaining a college education, 958 men embarked on a five-year schedule at Northeastern University in the Fall of 1937.

Raw materials for a ship, which would be launched as the "1942," entered the gates as a diffused but solid shipyard located in the Back Bay section of Boston.

Inspection of the major part of the raw material was held in the Huntington Building while some of the specialized sections were being observed in the Main and Laboratory Buildings. Construction was practically dormant during the first year while the inspectors were testing the material, looking forward to the day when they would use the best of the raw product for the keel.

During the inspection period, a huge and modern new way was being constructed, to help form a more compact shipyard. This was the first of several ways in the proposed building plan of the corporation.

As Freshmen, members of the Class spent the year adjusting themselves to their new adventure and they were not overanxious about joining activities. Red and black ties could be seen flying into waiting trolleys immediately after the last class of the day was over.

"Whisker Frisker," the social precedent of the Class, attracted 250 couples at the Hotel Kenmore. The catchy title has been appropriated by the four subsequent Freshman classes. Fred Cusick and Charley Gates, representing the Class, won second and third places respectively in the Public Speaking Contest during their Freshman year.

Work on the keel of the "1942" was started in the Sophomore year. Raw material, approved by the inspectors, was moved to the new ways, and amid the conveniences of a modern workshop, a firm, well-balanced foundation was built during the year. Inconveniences of crossing a busy thoroughfare to get from one shop to another were memories which would never be experienced again. A campus colored with chlorophyll had replaced one covered by macadam and parallel steel tracks. No longer would preceptors have to contend with dance orchestras practicing beneath them. A more compact and a more efficient shipyard was the resultant of the change of location.

Two smokers were held during the Sophomore year. Division A used a vaudeville show to supplement the evening. Louis Michaelson walked away with first prize by giving imitations of F. D. R. giving a fire-side chat, Fred Allen, and other prominent persons. Dave Drummond and Bill Taylor took second prize with an exhibition of a couple jitterbugging. Gene Garlick, with his tap dancing, won third prize. Division B had a quiz program to augment its smoker. Harold Drury, Bob McNally, and Harry MacQuarrie were winners in that order.

"The '42 Tangle" was held at the Copley Plaza during the Sophomore year with Ed Dacy, as M. C., conducting a musical quiz styled after Kay Kyser's Colleg of Musical Knowledge. Sam Zax, who later took second place on one of Kyser's nationwide broadcasts, won first honors.

Outstanding social success of the Sophomore year was "The Northeastern Moonlight Sail," first affair in the history of the University for which a steamship had been chartered for the exclusive use of the student body and guests. The S.S. Steel Pier was hired and 300 classmates, faculty guests, and other students sailed a triangular course outside of Boston Harbor on a smooth, clear, moonlight June evening. Nate Abrams added to the evening with several tap renditions in the cabin.

It was during the Sophomore year that students throughout the country decided that their fish diet needed a touch of coloring. It started with a Harvard undergraduate who paid off a debt by devouring a live goldfish. Students in other schools, not to be outdone by Harvard, took up the challenge and the "world record" increased day by day. Northeastern's unofficial representative, Jack Smookler, received notoriety when he consumed 36 wiggling specimens in front of the Opera House while a cheering crowd held up traffic on the Avenue. Smookler's world record was broken nine hours later when an M.I.T. gourmand was credited with forty fish.

Several members of the Class of '42, who were destined to maintain their positions during the next two years, made first string on the varsity teams during the Sophomore year. Lou Cunningham and Johnny Chipman were outstanding on the hockey team, while Jack Wiren and Sam Drevitch were key men on the track and cross country teams. Dean Williams, Ronnie Tubbs and Charley Abend were regulars on the football team and Syl Simon and Charley Foster were big stickers on the baseball team.

Middler

Work on the hull of the "1942" occupied the schedule for the Middler year. During this formulative year, progress became very evident to the yard officials. The "1942" assumed the smooth lines which had been drawn out for her. The two years previously given over to assure the ship of a firm foundation were being used as basis for the specialized work to follow.

The unique dances of the Class came during the Middler year, which is also unique at Northeastern. The same year which brings the first grey hairs to the heads of many Northeastern men who spend many hours relating the why's and wherefor's of a Middler year, saw over 200 unsuperstitious couples attending the "Hi-jinx" dance. Friday the 13th was the date of the affair at which classmates waved a flouting hand at dame misfortune. Two black cats roamed the floor, crossing couples' paths, while carefree students were breaking mirrors and walking under a specially erected ladder. Students did not report any serious consequences, but the Class Treasurer, Jimmy Sanford, woe-fully claimed that dame misfortune had wreaked her misfortune on him. The bookkeeping entry for the dance was also unique in that it was the only one in the history of the Class which was inserted in red ink.

Division B came along with the equally unusual "Double Decker" dance held at Longwood Towers. Two bands were featured at this affair: Harry Daw supplied the regular dance music, while Ed Parsley and his "Saddle Pals" offered entertainment at the intermission with cowboy songs, rope tricks, and poor jokes.

Most of the out of state and many local members of the Class had become members of fraternities by the Middler Year. These men found in their fraternities a substitute for their homes which was better than they had expected to find. The housemother furnished the home cooked food and just enough parental supervision to keep them from going too far astray. Members made strong friendships and "brothers" were surprised to find the extent to which fellow members would go to help them out of any difficulty. Fraternity members were exposed, more so than non-fraternity members, to an important course which they did not sign up for, i.e., human nature.

Al Pajonas and Wally Sullivan, two of the outstanding men who accelerated their programs to be graduated with the Class of '42, were both first stringers on the baseball and basketball teams during the 1939-40 college year.

Junior

Specialization was necessary during the Junior year if the boat was to attain perfection by June 1942. Each member concentrated on his major and the hull of the "1942" was outfitted with the special parts. At the end of the year the ship appeared nearly ready for launching, as all the elements called for in the blueprints had been placed. True, all the specifications had been met but there was still a short period, called for in the schedule, necessary to polish up the various parts before launching could be held.

Social activity was dormant during the early part of the Junior year, for classmates were looking forward to the climactic social event of their lives—the Junior Promenade—and anything else would have been out of place.

Committeemen worked hard and silently. They met at least once a week to spend an evening preparing for the night which would be termed perfect by their classmates. The committee pledged their word to keep the plans secret until notification came through the proper channel. Every committeeman kept his pledge and through the medium of the NEWS, members of the Class learned that the Imperial Ballroom of the Hotel Statler had been selected as the site of the Prom.

Other announcements came through periodically and prosaically to the members of the Class who were interested primarily in one thing: "Whose band will be selected to afford the music for the big affair?"

Then the announcement was made: Harry James, the World's No. 1 Trumpeter, and his nineteen-piece orchestra had been signed to play for the most elaborate social event of the Class. Students were unanimous in their acclaim, and not one ticket was returned as a registration of disapproval of the selection.

Students were going to great extremes to make sure that the evening would be a social success. Emily Post's "Blue Book" had a long reserved list at the public libraries in Greater Boston. Some students were taking dancing lessons so that they would be right up to form when the evening came. Everyone reserved the evening of April 4 with his best girl, and then became absorbed with making sure that every detail for the evening had been taken care of.

Then the evening came. Baggy sport clothes were doffed for the vesture required by the affair. Tails were donned for the first time by the majority of Class members and each one called for his own "Miss Northeastern."

Couples entered the Imperial Ballroom and began an evening which was later termed "a social and financial, if not an epicurean success." James proved he had a just claim to his "World's No. 1 Trumpeter" title. The music was smooth, the vocalist, Dick Haines, was very good, and the air of sophistication made the evening particularly pleasant. But the Class received a minor set-back when the announcement was made that the guest of a prominent Class of 1941 student, Gerald DeNapoli, had been selected as "Miss Northeastern." Following the grand march the attendees received their only major disappointment when they returned to their tables for the scheduled chicken dinners, which turned out to be a poor facsimile of a midnight snack.

Despite these "set-backs," the Class was grateful to Johnny Chipman, Chairman, and the rest of the committee for arranging an evening which will be cherished forever.

Music officially ended at 3 A.M., but few students danced until the end. By that time students were engaged in carrying out their schedules which had been arranged beforehand.

Names of members of the Class could be found in important offices and positions in every activity and sport during the Junior year. Si Nathenson and Dick Wadleigh held the top positions on the NEWS, leading the staff toward the third straight "All-American" rating. They were also responsible for the success of the New England Inter-Collegiate Newspaper Association convention held at Northeastern. Mike Prohovsky won national recognition when he captured the I.C. 4A, two-mile championship at Madison Square Garden in New York while Fred Cusick was gaining fame throughout New England with his daily sports review over Station WCOP in Boston.

Senior

Activity during the Senior year was pointed toward the last social event of the Class—Senior Week. But the festivities scheduled for June would have been poorly attended by many B.A.'s, L.A.'s, and some of the engineers who would, by that time, be working for Uncle Sam. Draft boards which had been lenient toward college students before December 7, 1941, became very strict about their deferments after the attack on Pearl Harbor. So it was decided to have two separate Senior Weeks—one for each division. Division A has had its affairs—a stag banquet at the Hotel Gardner and a formal dinner-dance in the Statler Terrace Room—and Division B is expected to have similar affairs. Thus, the Class is deprived of the opportunity of terminating its studies with the fanfare of previous Classes. But the situation could not be helped and the members have one consolation; i.e., the Junior Promenade will be all the more vivid because it is the brightest spot in social history—the one point where both divisions united for the Class formal.

Seniors played prominent roles during their final year at Northeastern. To mention a few, Rudy Laskso was instrumental in having the College of Engineering accepted by Tau Beta Pi, national honor society for Engineering Colleges; Bill Robinson and Gordon Brown played important parts in organizing the Hus-skiers; and Alpha Kappa Sigma, under Charley Patterson, purchased $1200 worth of defense bonds.

The ship is nearly complete and ready for launching according to the schedule which was set five years ago. As the Administration prepares for the commencement exercises, it finds that while it was building one large ship, there are over 300 smaller boats which make the larger ship complete. These boats have completed their formulative period on the ways and must be launched to make way for a new ship.

But they are not complete. As with every ship, there is much work to be done after the launching—their careers are just beginning. These boats have been moulded according to a pattern of the world which looks to them for leadership. To date these boats have had a similar background but with the launching this similarity ceases. Different experiences and environments will make them more individualistic as the years pass. Someone once aptly said:

"It is the set of the Sails

And not the gales

Which determine the course you go."

It is impossible to predict at this time where these ships will sail and to what extent their careers will be successful. Their first objectives are Tokyo, Berlin, and Rome. When these goals have been attained, then they may embark on the courses which they themselves choose. A far better author than the present one will record that history for the twenty-fifth reunion in 1967.

DEAN'S CABINET

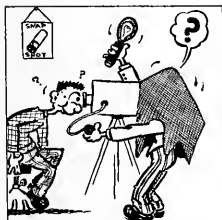

CHEERLEADERS

Two new cheers were introduced this year—"The Husky Wail," and "Fight, Northeastern." Both of them have been very successful.

The cheerleaders have led Northeastern followers at all the football and basketball games. They have also assisted at rallies, parades, and various school programs, such as the Coronation of King Husky II.

The squad consists of Stanley M. Buchanan, '44, head cheerleader; Robert E. Clayton, Jr., '46; Robert A. Gross, '44; Peter J. Manos, '45; Harold R. Musiker, '43; and George P. Petitin, Jr., '46.

CAMERA CLUB

In both divisions weekly lectures and darkroom demonstrations were conducted. Lectures and demonstrations were concerned mainly with all phases of developing, printing, and enlarging.

Two shows were conducted, one in each division, which were open to the entire student body. These included pictures taken on the campus. A colored, still-picture show was presented by Paul Knaut.

Officers for division A are, Robert G. Porter, '45, Chairman; David R. Wood, '45, Treasurer; for Division B, Sherman M. Kramer, '44, Chairman; Paul A.

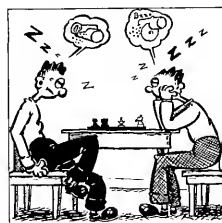

Knaut, Treasure. Professor George H. Meserve, Jr., acted as faculty adviser.

CHESS CLUB

The Tuesday and Thursday meetings of the Northeastern Chess Club were very well attended this year. Several new chess sets were purchased.

Professor Joseph A. Coolidge, the faculty adviser to the club, instructed the beginners, and willingly played the old timers to a standstill.

The President of the club was John H. Kerr, Jr., '44, and the Secretary-Treasurer, John H. Taylor, Jr., '46.

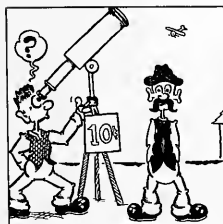

ASTRONOMY CLUB

The Astronomy Club has extended its interests to include a study of the sky for stars and clouds, and the earth for rocks, minerals, and geological features.

The club members are also interested in the use of the principles of physics and chemistry. Visits to museums, astronomical observatories, and quarries are made in small groups.

This year's officers are: President, James E. Cornish, '46; Vice-President, James I. Connelly, '46; Faculty Adviser to the club is Prof. C. David Johnson.

INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS CLUB

The I. R. C. sponsored a Pan-American conference in conjunction with a nation-wide series of conferences of similar nature in other universities.

The International Relations Clubs of the East met at a conference at Smith College, sponsored by the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace, to discuss foreign relations. N. U. was represented by eight club members at five round table discussions.

The club was represented at the Foreign Policy Associations meetings throughout the year, and reports of the meetings were given at the club meetings.

The club has no official officers. Professor Hamilton is faculty adviser.

LAW AND ACCOUNTING CLUB

Activities in the Law and Accounting Club centered around reports given by individual members.

Joseph P. Andrews, '42, drew upon his personal experience in the development and analysis of "Apparatus Cost Accounting." Dominic O. Barbiero, '42, delivered a report based on research into current law and accounting problems. An analysis of accounting procedure in banks was made by Robert C. Campbell, '44.

Group discussions, participated in by members of the club, featured other meetings.

Officers of the club are: Presidents, Stephen J. Donlon, Jr., '42, and Arthur G. Wolff, '43; Vice-Presidents, Robert C. Campbell, '44, and George W. Dewey, '43; Secretaries, James L. Pappas, '43, and Albert Laughy, '44. Prof. Alfred D'Alessandro is the faculty adviser.

BANKING AND FINANCE SOCIETY

During the first semester, the club discussed the security of national business. From an imaginary fund of $100,000 invested, members made profits amounting to nearly $10,000. Evening meetings were taken up largely by discussions of the fascinating "Odd-Lot Index."

Declaration of war plunged the club into the subject of withholding taxes, and its effects. Evening meetings in the second semester featured an analysis by Mr. Guild, of the Boston Stock Exchange.

Division A officers of the club are Edward M. Sprowl, '42, President; Harry W. Martin, '42, Vice-President; John Lally, '44, Secretary; and Albert Varner, '44, Treasurer. Division B officers are William W. Robinson, '42, President; Philip MacBarron, '43, Vice-President; William Shannon, '44, Secretary-Treasurer. Professor Hurshel E. Underhill acted as faculty adviser.

DEBATING CLUB

Business meetings and practice sessions of the Debating Society have been held regularly on Tuesdays throughout the year.

The upperclass, freshman, and evening division teams have debated with M. I. T. on the national intercollegiate proposition, Resolved: "That the Federal Government should regulate by law all labor unions in the United States."

Officers of the club are, Edward F. Preston, '44, acting president; Hugo P. Pruter, '44, vice-president; and Robert E. Miller, '45, secretary. Mr. Norvish was the faculty adviser.

HUS-SKIERS

The Hus-Skiers were organized in December, 1941, with a membership of 110. The club has enjoyed a very successful first year, culminating in a ski carnival on March 7 and 8, at Cranmore Mountain, North Conway, New Hampshire. The competitive material within the club is such that there are plans for intercollegiate competition in 1943.

Officers are: Presidents, Gordon H. Brown, '42, and William W. Robinson, '42; Vice-Presidents, Robert E. McKee, '45, and Gordon H. Brown, '42; Secretaries, Bradford Holt, '46, and Carl E. Gubellini, '44;

Treasurers, Kenneth Burr, '46, and Charles O. Anderson, '42. Mr. Alvin R. Ingraham is the faculty adviser to the club.

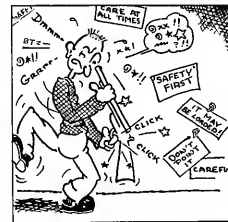

RIFLE CLUB

National defense has greatly increased interest and participation in the Rifle Club. More than 150 students came to the first club meeting, and later tried out on the rifle range.

The high point of the year's activity was the New England College Rifle League Tournament in March. N. U. scored fifth, preceded by Yale, Coast Guard, M. I. T., and Harvard, in that order. Elwood Myers rated third in individual shooting. In addition, Prof. J. James Devine, adviser to the club, was made director of the League for next year.

Minor letters for riflery have been awarded to Ray H. Bartlett, Jr., '42; Vernon F. Carpenter, '43; Frederick A. Moore, Jr., '43; Elwood R. Myers, '42; Carl W. Pinkham, '44; Robert B. Richmond, '45; Hugh P. Simms, '44; Everett E. Stone, '43; David M. Straight, '43.

Officers of the Club are: Elwood R. Myers, '42, President; Norman S. Crossley, '42, and Eugene F. Tangherlini, '43, Vice-Presidents; Arthur J. Davis, '45, and Frederick A. Moore, Jr., '43, Secretaries; Everett E. Stone, '43, and David M. Straight, '43, Treasurers; David R. Wood, '45, and Hugh P. Simms, '43, Ordnance Officers.

The five years of the immediate past which we have spent together are undoubtedly the most formulative years of our lives. During that period something new has been added to each person listed in this book.

It is the purpose of the Cauldron Board to record the results of these important years and to make them available to each member—to furnish each with a lifetime of memories.

In editing Volume Twenty-one, we have made fundamental changes, designed to interest and please all seniors. We hope that these changes will accomplish their purpose.

Our duties are finished except for one: that of selecting seven men, from the list on the opposite page, who will be responsible for producing the 1943 Cauldron. To them we offer our best wishes and trust that their task will be as pleasant as ours has been.

TRACK

The Season

By Jack Campbell

Northeastern's varsity track team, captained by two-miler Mike Prohodsky, has rolled up its second successive undefeated indoor season, capped the unofficial team honors in the annual N.E.A.A.U. track and field championships, and produced an individual New England titlist in three months of winter competition on the boards and indoor dirt tracks.

Although this team cannot match the color of last year's record-slashing, title-grabbing aggregation, it is an indefinitely more powerful and better balanced squad. The strength of such a team is borne out in dual meets rather than in open intercollegiate competition. The Tatton tracksters took the toll of four N.E. teams in the course of the season, downing Bates and Bowdoin with one sweep in a triangular meet at Lewiston, Maine; Brown University at Providence, R. I.; and the University of Maine at Orono, Maine.

The N.E.A.A.U. track and field championships in the Tufts Cage at Medford and the grand finale with the University of Maine Bears were the season's most memorable meets. In the Medford meet the hot-foot Huskies copped one first place, five seconds, and two fourths to walk away with the mythical N.E. Team title with 22 points as against 20 for U.N.H. and 17 for Dartmouth. Billy Friary's wiffled head was adorned with the N.E. dash champion's crown after he had peeled off the 50-yard dash in 5.5s with teammate Reggie Cooke right behind. Captain Mike Prohodsky finished second in the mile run, Ed Parker in the three mile, defending champion Bill Carroll in the 1000, and Charlie Knowles in the Shot. John Fitzpatrick in the 600 and Paul Hodge and Joe Lavin in the High Jump accounted for the fourth places and the two points that meant victory.

The Maine meet provided the thrill of the year as Northeastern's Husky track team eked out a 1½ point victory over the Bears in the huge Orono cage. The Huskies spotted their opponents sixteen points in the first two events and trailed right down to the last event, finally cashing in on the broad jumping efforts of Paul Hodge and Joe Lavin. With Maine leading 56½ to 51½, Hodge holding first place in the broad jump and Lavin second by ¾ths of an inch, and Northeastern needing first and second places to win and complete their season undefeated, Hadlock of Manie prepared for his final leap. The outcome of the meet rested on his shoulders, but his effort was far short of Lavin's 20' 10" mark, so Northeastern took the event, and the meet 59¼ to 57¼.

Out of the eight events in the annual Y.M.C.A. track meet, Northeastern won five—two clean-sweep victories included—to pile up 39 points as against 14 for Tufts College, 7 for Harvard, 6 for Concord High School, and 3 for the B.A.A. The outstanding performer in this meet was Middler Eddie Parker who, with a 20 yard handicap he didn't need, defeated Tuftsonian Roy Phillips (75 yards) and teammate Mike Prohodsky (scratch) in the two mile handicap event. Bob Carroll won the handicap 1000 off the scratch mark in 2m/23s, defeating Gil Dodds of the B.A.A. who later became the Greg Rice nemesis number one. Frank Corcoran led teammates Bill Friary and Reggie Cooke to a clean sweep in dash, while freshman Frank McCann led a sweep in the 300 with Cooke and Harry Bennett finishing second and third. George Leach took first place in the high jump.

The Tattonmen opened their season with a double win over Bowdoin and Bates in a triangular meet at Lewiston, Maine. 57 to 31 to 20. The well-balanced Husky outfit, packing a scoring punch in every event, took the lead early in the meet and were never headed, piling up a score which exceeded by 6 points the combined totals of the two Pine Tree State colleges.

Northeastern's sophomore star, Reggie Cooke, scored a double in the dash and 300, while Bowdoin's Alan Hillman downed the highly touted Northeastern Carroll twins, first Bill in the mile, then Bob in the 1000. Mike Prohodsky and Ed Parker finished hand in hand for a first place tie in the two-mile, while Joe Lavin in the broad pump, Paul Hodge in the high jump, and Bob Tarbell in the pole vault took the other first places for the Red-and-Black.

Captain Mike Prohodsky, with a victory in the 1000 and a meet record-shattering performance in the mile, led his varsity tracksters to a 47 to 25 victory over Brown University at Providence, R. I. The Huskies finished 1, 2, in four of eight events, Prohodsky and Parker in the 1000, Alberghini and Welch in the hurdles, Corcoran and Friary in the dash, and Hodge and Lavin in the high jump.

In a season that started off with a rush, but in maturing, failed to realize expectations, Northeastern's Varsity Cross Country Team rolled up three dual meet victories as against one defeat, and finished third in the New England Intercollegiate at Franklin Park and eleventh in the National Intercollegiate at Van Cortland Park, New York City.

The dual meet record is the best ever compiled by a Jerry Tatton coach harrier aggregation. The disappointment came in the performance of the team in the I.C.A.A. meet in New York at the end of the season in which the Huskies placed eleventh, far below their surprise fourth place of the previous year. The Husky Harriers knocked off the University of Connecticut and Bates College foes in rapid succession before bowing before the powerful Blue Harrier aggregation of Rhode Island State College, the team that eventually won the New England and I.C.A.A. titles and then went on to cop the National Collegiate title at East Lansing, Michigan.

The following week, the Tatton trotters turned in their best performance of the year to climb aboard the win wagon again at the expense of the Tufts College hill-and-dalers.

For three straight years the Nutmegger harriers from Storrs, Connecticut had dumped the Red-and-Black runners in the opening meet of the season, so this year Tatton and his well-conditioned men were gunning for the Nutmeggers and blasted them with a 22 to 33 victory. The Huskies caught the men of Connecticut flatfooted and over a mile had passed before Charlie Robbins, Nutmegger star, and his teammate Hal Tribou ventured among the seven Northeastern leaders. Northeastern's Ed Parker held them off, however, and won the race in time identical to the figures in the score, 22m 33s, with teammate Mike Prohodsky close behind. Robbins and Tribou of Connecticut were next, followed by a trio of Huskies—Captain Dick Carpenter, Warren Doe, and Bob Carroll.

Ed Parker, Mike Prohodsky, and Bob Carroll finished in a three-way tie for first place in 22m 19s to lead a seven-man Northeastern escort for the Bates College harriers at Franklin Park. Captain Dick Carpenter, Warren Doe, Bob Kodis, and Jack Campbell all crossed the line ahead of Smith of Bates to hang up a 15 to 47 perfect score victory.

The Northeasterners then ran up against their first defeat—17 to 43, bowing to the blue-clad harriers of Rhode Island State College on the rocky Rhody course at Kingston, R. I. However, with Ed Parker finishing fourth behind Rhody's Taylor and Barrett and ahead of Rhody's Tingley and L. Nickols, Northeastern became the first team even to score upon big "little Rhody." Prohodsky, R. Carroll, Carpenter, and Doe completed the scoring for N.U.

The Husky harriers then returned to their own Franklin Park course and also to the win column, defeating the Tufts College runners 18 to 44.

Ed Parker led his teammates to a third place in the New England Intercollegiate, behind Rhode Island State and Connecticut. In winning this meet, Rhode Island compiled the lowest score ever recorded for a winner in this annual event. Parker finished seventh, Prohodsky twelfth, Bob Carroll fifteenth, Captain Carpenter twenty-second, and Warren Doe thirty-second.

In the I.C.A.A. meet at Van Cortland Park, Northeastern's seven-man team finished eleventh as Ed Parker in nineteenth place was again the number one N.U. man. Mike Prohodsky was next in fortieth place, Dick Carpenter in fifty-second, Jack Campbell in eighty-first, and Warren Doe in 100th position, completed the Husky scoring.

At the team banquet in the Hotel Lenox at the close of the season, the lettermen elected Ed Parker, actual leader in every race for two years, to captain the Husky harrier horde in the fall of '42. Five men were awarded letters: Captain Dick Carpenter, Captain-elect Ed Parker, Mike Prohodsky, Bob Carroll, and Warren Doe.

The Season

By STEVE DONLON

"The best team I've had to work with in my five years at Northeastern." With these words optimistically aired after a September practice session Coach Jimmie Dunn set the keynote for our most successful football season in the past half-decade. Two months later his roseate preview of the 1941 gridiron prospects was sustained as the Huskies came to the end of the trail with a four won and three lost record. Although at first glance the won and lost totals seem rather ordinary, a further analysis of the seven games reveals that it might well have been six won and one lost providing Lady Luck had seen fit to cast even a pleasant smirk our way.

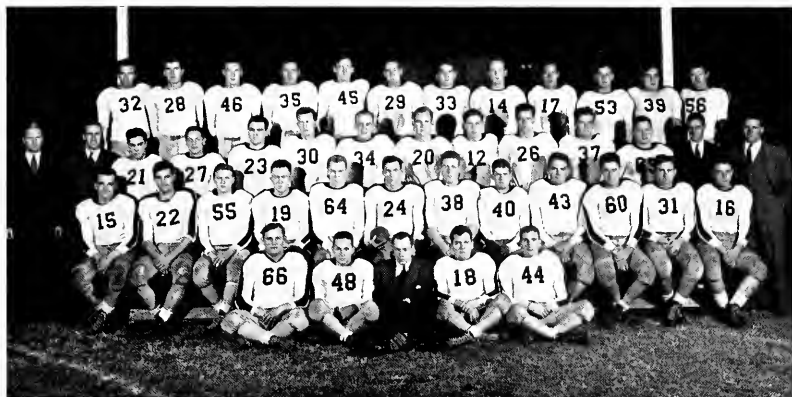

Our old acquaintance, Mr. Jinx, after hovering in the wings for a single glorious week slipped back to the front of the stage and took command for the stentch consecutive time. Injury after injury and tough break after break were gleefully monkey-wrenched into the Husky machinery. Only a truly great team could have absorbed the early year reverses in fortune suffered by the Huskies and yet have had enough courage to lift itself to a winning year.

The opening link in the four-game chain of victories was forged against a stubbornly resisting but outclassed University of Vermont eleven by a history-making 20 to 6 score. Not only was this the largest margin of victory accumulated by a Northeastern team in three years but further, the twenty points represented an offensive high for a similar span of time.

In that game the Dunn disciples showed a precision and confidence which trumpeted a warning to future Husky opponents that Northeastern was not just a minor bump on the schedule but a hurdle of major proportions. Offensively sparked by Captain Joe Dias, Ed Sakovitz and sophomore Bob Otenti, plus a top-flight collegiate punting ace named Gale Foster the Huskies ground out a highly successful display of football pyrotechnics. Not less prominent were the keepers of the gate led by the Middler inseparables Len Erickson, and Dick Grey. Otenti, Dias and Grey did the scoring, the last-named on a 62-yard run after a pass interception.

From this early season high spot the success curve of Husky pigkinnery dropped to a dismal low in the next pair of games as Mr. Jinx stepped into the picture. In the second game of the season, played at Maine, a long line of injured warriors filed to the sidelines until only a remnant of the starting eleven was available for the last part of the game. The Black Bears took full advantage of the situation and wiped out an early Northeastern lead of 12 points to sweep over 14 last half counters on the wings of a baffling aerial attack. Touchdowns by Dias and Foster in the first half accounted for the loser's total.

Unfortunately for the injury-shattered Huskies, the third game of the year came against what was undoubtedly their toughest opponent, the Eastern small-college champion, Williams. Suffice to say here that after the dust cleared the weary and out-manned Red and Black had succumbed, 38 to 0.

On the following weekend the revitalized and revamped Huskies contributed one of New England's major upsets by running over a fine Bates team at Bates by a 13 to 0 score. Captain Joe Dias, on one of his best days, accounted for the dozen and one points. Included in the Dias repertoire was an 81-yard streak through the entire Bobcat team. The glory was not all to Dias, however, as the entire team surged back from the depths reached the week previous.

One of the most satisfying Northeastern victories in a long time was rung up in the next game as the Huskies hammered out a 14 to 7 victory over Upsala. In a game played to a fierce tempo, the Red and Black evened up a series of old counts against the Vikings. Gale Foster and Joe Dias did the scoring with the play of Ed Sakovitz, Len Erickson and Dick Grey also drawing headlines.

The most disheartening loss of the year came on the following weekend when the Tufts Jumbos eked out a 7 to 6 win in a game played on a sea of mud at Tufts Oval. After holding a six-point lead early in the second half through Bob Otenti's 75-yard run the Huskies gave up seven late game points to lose. Tufts, materially aided by a Northeastern penalty, tied the game with only three minutes left to play and then booted the extra point.

Victory in the valedictorian effort of the 1941 team was attained over Springfield by 12 to 6. Captain Joe Dias and Ernie Colantonio, both playing in Red and Black uniforms for the last time, tallied for the Dunmen. For Dias it represented his sixth score of the year, placing him high on the list of Northeastern offensive aces.

Of this 1941 squad but two members of the first eleven, Dias and Colantonio, and four subs from a total squad of forty would normally be missing when the next call to the gridiron is made. In the normal course of events we could look forward to one of the greatest years in Husky history next fall. Certainly for Coach Jimmie Dunn, 1942 once loomed as the year when his patient efforts were to be at least rewarded with the ultimate in Husky football elevens. Instead, next fall will find but a scattering of players left and Jimmie Dunn carrying on in a far more important post in the uniform of any Army officer.

Coach Dunn's last team, for the duration at least, was one which leaves not only a winning record but further and more important and imperishable lesson in the difficult art of rising from the abyss of despair to the pinnacle of victory.

Northeastern's 1941 varsity baseball team established the enviable record of 12 wins and 4 defeats. Coach Herb Gallagher's team was considered to be one of the best in New England college circles. The Huskies could easily lay claim to the championship of local colleges in winning four out of five contests.

Northeastern tied with New Hampshire for second place in the New England Conference. They had the satisfaction of placing the greatest number of players on the "All" team. Oscar Khederian, Al Pajonas, Capt. Sylvan Simon, and Wally Sullivan all received this honor. Fred Rice was chosen on the second team, while Mike Azzone, Ed Colt, Lou Cunningham and Mickey Maguire were given honorable mention.

Captain Sylvan Simon's leadership was a contributing factor to the season's success. His errorless fielding was a highlight of the season. Syl played in his regular centerfield position for the third straight year.

Wally Sullivan, the 1942 captain-elect, had the honor of being the leading hitter. Batting in the cleanup position, the rightfielder obtained the average of .371.

Ed Colt, veteran leftfielder, had the distinction of leading in stolen bases. This also marked Ed's third year of varsity competition.

Two Sophomores, Frank Coole and Fred Rice, were the mainstays of the pitching staff, each winning four games. Ernie Colantonio, converted from the outfield, obtained three victories. Veteran Charlie Foster rounded out the regular staff.

The combination of Khederian at third and Pajonas at shortstop opened the eyes of many Major League scouts. Their outstanding defensive and offensive work turned many games into victories. Oscar batted in 15 runs during the season. Al ran a close second, batting in 14 and his average was .317.

Sophomores Mike Azzone at second, and Fred Antinarelli at first, played consistent ball all season. Mike hit for an even .300. "Yorker" Trullson substituted at second.

Mickey Maguire played his second straight year behind the plate, and ended the season with a .321 batting average.

Retiring players include Warren Boutelle, Lou Cunningham, and Vin Labowicz. Lou made ten consecutive hits and averaged .333. Chauncey Del Grosso and Lee Manning complete the members of the 1941 squad.

Northeastern opened the season convincingly behind Fred Rice by shutting out Boston College 9-0. Rice held the Eagles to 3 hits while his mates pounded out 13. Only one Eagle reached second so tight was the Husky defense.

Hopes were momentarily dimmed when the Red and Black lost its first Conference game at Rhode Island 7-1. Daring base running and brilliant defensive work at tight moments held the Huskies in check.

A bid for the Conference title was initiated by defeating Maine 8-7. Frank Coole personally accounted for the victory by taming the Bears with his arm and bat.

Colby won over the Huskies 4-1 as the result of one big inning. Charlie Foster allowed one hit until the sixth, but then the Mules found his speedball to their liking.

Bates Bobcats were defeated 7-3 behind Ernie Colantonio's effective pitching. Pajonas' two triples and three opportune double plays were contributing factors.

Avenging its earlier setback the Huskies edged Rhode Island 1-0 in the tightest defensive game of the year. Coole held the Rams to four hits. Sullivan doubled scoring Pajonas for the lone run.

The team journeyed to Waterville and loosed their batting barrage for a 13-2 parade over Colby. Foster won his first game. Khederian, Pajonas, and Sullivan accounted for six of thirteen hits, one being a home run by Wally.

Northeastern lost its second Conference game at New Hampshire. Irving Karelis, the leading Conference hurler, led the Wildcats to the 2-0 victory.

Ernie Colantonio allowed six scattered hits as Northeastern romped over Clark 9-0. Antinarelli, Colt, and Sullivan all collected triples. The latter also stole home.

The team continued its winning ways defeating Worcester Tech 12-6. Home runs counted heavily as Khederian hit the circuit for two, and Pajonas one. Sullivan added a triple to the cause.

The Huskies blasted out a 16-11 Conference victory over Connecticut at Storrs. The game was a hitting slugfest, both teams collecting a total of 36. Cunningham had a perfect day hitting four for four.

The undefeated record of New Hampshire's Karelis was broken by a 7-6 Husky victory at Huntington Field. It took ten innings to do the trick, but it tied up the Conference lead. The Gallaghers kept the base paths dusty with seven stolen bases. Colt starred with two runs, three stolen bases, and three hits.

Northeastern overcame the Soldier Field jinx by scoring three big runs in the ninth to edge Harvard 4-3. Azzone knocked in the tying runs, and then Rice won his own game by singling in Mike. This was one of the best games of the season.

Coach Gallagher continued his string of victories over Tufts as the Red and Black took both ends of a doubleheader at the Oval.

The scores were 5-1 and 7-6. Frank Coole and Ernie Colantonio held the Jumbos in check by only allowing four hits.

Boston College brought the season to a close by banging out a 9-2 victory. Fred Antinarelli's homer was the only solid Husky hit. Captain Syl Simon and Khederian sparkled defensively. The record of the 1941 team marks the end of another outstanding baseball season.

The Season

By FRED CUSICK

"Best balanced team in the league" was the unanimous judgment of hockey fans and critics concerning Northeastern University's 1941-42 New England College Conference sextet. Leonard M. Fowle, college hockey editor of the Boston Globe, stated that if the Huskies possessed one outstanding forward they would have copped the title. As it was Coach Herb Gallagher's team finished third in the league with 7 wins and 4 defeats.

By an "outstanding" forward Mr. Fowle meant one of the calibre of John Byrne, John Bialeck, John Chipman, Ed Barry, and the present mentor, all of whom represented former Husky teams. That one was lacking from this year's club might well be accounted for by the fact that no fourth year man was on the squad. In other words, draft plans permitting, Northeastern's entire squad will be back next year and not one, but several "outstanding" forwards will represent the Red and Black.

If the Huskies lacked a great forward, then they were well compensated for the fact, by a brilliant defenseman in the person of Captain Ronnie McKinnon. For the second successive year Captain McKinnon was chosen on the New England College Conference all-star team which certainly is an indication of his hockey ability. Off the ice Ronnie is one of the most personable members of the squad and an indication of his popularity was his election to the captaincy after his sophomore year—the first in the school's hockey history. He had an inimitable style of defense play—he was essentially a poke checker rather than a body checker—and it aided the team no end as he broke up countless attacks before they could get under full swing. This year McKinnon played almost 60 minutes of every game since he was the only experienced defenseman on the team. His partner at the points was Sophomore Bob Otenti who improved so much during the season that he drew an honorable mention award on the League "All" team.

Otenti was a star blocking back on the football team so his rugged body checks on the ice were but a continuation of his gridiron maneuvers. With two more years of competition ahead Bob should develop into one of the league's best defensemen. Another Sophomore, Bob Sharpe, who never played hockey before entering Northeastern, showed considerable promise as a defenseman, and proved to be a capable relief man. Big John Heanue was a letterman also, despite the fact that he was hampered by injuries most of the year.

In the goal Northeastern had Will Shannon, a colorful net-minder, who turned in several brilliant performances throughout the season. Shannon was an outstanding high school star, and playing his first year of varsity competition he displayed considerable ability. Along with Ed Loring of Colby, he was the only goalie to turn in a shutout in the League. Shannon turned the trick twice (against Middlebury and Bowdoin). John Kelly, another second year man, was his substitute.

Up front the Huskies had two lines of equal ability, too, with each one excelling in some particular quality. The first line was an "all middler" wave made up of Jack Carder, Bob Fernberg and Bill Hutchinson, while the second trio was an "all sophomore" line, consisting of Bob Maker, Dick Conners and Walter Hurley. Here's a brief sketch on each of them:

Jack Carder—an engineering student, probably one of the most aggressive players on the team. He had considerable high school experience and was captain of the Newton High team in his senior year. He possesses one of the hardest shots on the team and if he was sure of its direction he would be one of the leading scorers in the league.

Bob Fernberg—a Business Administration student from Dorchester. Modest and unassuming off the ice. A brilliant student and consistent Dean's List man. He captained Dorchester's team in the Boston High School Hockey League. Received honorable mention on the New England League "all" team. He rates as most improved player of the club.

Bill Hutchinson—a Business Administration student and a good one. He and Fernberg are life-long pals. Bill rates as one of the two comedians on the club. He never played high school hockey but has shown considerable ability in his three years of play at Northeastern. He is one of the smartest forwards in college hockey and his proficiency in "faking" goal tenders was uncanny.

Bob Maker—a Business Administration student. Leading scorer on the team. He had the most accurate shot on the club. A product of Framingham High. In addition to College hockey he plays on outside rinks at every possible opportunity. Never plays without a special stick graded to his own specifications.

Richard Connors—a Business Administration student. A hustler from the drop of the puck. His aggressiveness made him outstanding. His nickname is "Gabe." Another Framingham High product. He and Maker are inseparable off the ice which accounts for their fine team play. He usually sets up plays but he scored several goals in vital games this year.

Walter Hurley—another Business Administration student. With "Hutch" he rates as a top-flight comedian. Played at Newton High School where he was outstanding. Chosen on the all-scholastic team. Probably the fastest skater in the club and he also possesses a good shot. He finished second to Maker in scoring.

Coach Gallagher had five other forwards who saw considerable service. Parker Blanchard, who was playing his first full year on the varsity, Bob Saumsiegle, who was hampered considerably by a knee injury and Carl Westlund, an experienced right winger. Sophomores John Lally and Frank Alward were also rated high, with Lally displaying possibilities as either a forward or a defenseman. The same trio sparked the club to a 4 to 3 win over Bowdoin at Brunswick, Maine after they had succumbed to Colby 9 to 5 the day before at Waterville. In the other games played, Tech was defeated twice, 6 to 3, and 9 to 4, Boston College won another close one 5 to 3, and New Hampshire was vanquished 9 to 4. With all three lines joining in the scoring, an impressive win was hung up over Bowdoin in the season's finale 8 to 0.

The Season

By S. NATHENSON

Before Uncle Sam tapped him gently on the shoulder and jerked a suggestive thumb at the Army, Coach Jimmy Dunn had time to present Northeastern a farewell gift. It was the most gratifying basketball season in years. The Huskies won six games and lost nine for an average of .400, a feat which inspired the Boston Globe to name N. U. the 24th strongest team in New England, ranking directly behind Norwich, which the Duncmen conquered, 37-31, and Maine, which they walloped twice, 51-35 and 42-40.

For a while, the boys looked like the proverbial lead-pipe cinch to wind up the season with more wins than losses. When Division A returned from the industrial wars to the business of wading through the second semester, it rubbed its eyes to gaze upon a hoop squad that with considerable eclat had annexed five victories in its first seven games. It saw Captain Hal Maron give numerous exhibitions on how to disappear in the middle of a court and reappear again with startling suddenness beneath the enemy basket with the ball in his possession.

It saw Al Pajonas, small and lithe and rhythmic, unleashing with either arm and from all angles his peculiar soft shots that floated leisurely up to the basket one inch above rim level and dived through without touching the rim.

It saw sophomore Ed Sitarz at center, tall and cool, demonstrating how a man can pass often and flawlessly to set up his teammates and still be a high scorer himself.

It saw a flashing blur on the court, and whenever the blur stopped it could be identified as diminutive Mike Azzone, who combined with Pajonas and Sitarz, to form one of the fastest and smartest sets of forwards in

New England. It saw him uncork a court game often bordering on the uncanny, a game which featured miraculous appearances in front of enemy passes, clever ball-handling, and lightning-like sorties deep into alien territory.

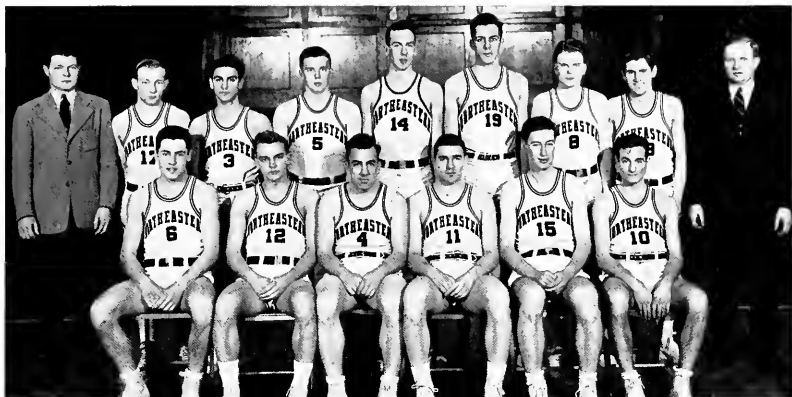

It saw—and in case you've dropped off somewhere along the line, "it" refers to Division A—it saw Wally Sullivan, swarthy and impassive, give lessons in the proper way to get balls off the back boards and so turn dangerous enemy forays into Husky scoring opportunities.

And whenever it clapped its hands and stamped its feet hard enough, it saw an erratic albeit colorful athlete named Jim Philips, who raced down the court inspired apparently by the same set of instincts as a woman driver, glancing brightly at Maron on his left and passing to an unsuspecting Pajonas on the right sideline, getting a return pass, faking brilliantly toward Mike Azzone but instead passing smoothly behind him to Professor Pugsley in the stands.

It saw the record to date: decisive victories over Bates, Norwich, Maine, and New Hampshire twice, and forgivable losses to Harvard, where the court was unfamiliar, the crowd partisan, and the officiating malodorous, and to Rhode Island, where the Huskies ran up their highest total of the year. 60 points, only to discover that Coach Keaney's basket-crazy Rams had manufactured 98 somewhere along the way.

All this Division A saw, and it offered up devout thanks to whatever gods it knew of, felt its blood tingle with the school spirit which a winning team engenders, and reached into its wallets to make sure that the all-important AA book was still there.

Then the team which had just won five of seven games proceeded to win exactly one of the next eight. The reasons are several. For one thing, Sitarz' draft board thought he would look nice in a soldier's uniform and transferr- ed him from the sportive realm of basketball tactics to the grim realm of military tactics. Then again, the second half of the schedule was as tough as a bride's biscuits, much tougher than the first half. Then again—oh, well . . . post mortems are never pleasant.

The losses we might point out for the morbidly minded, were to Springfield, Tufts, Clark, Connecticut twice, Rhode Island, for the second time, and Colby. The lonesome victory was over Maine, and the fact that it was a victory can be traced to Al Pajonas, who floated one of his patented balloons through the hoop in the final seconds of the game, to make the score read 42-40 for the Red and Black. The points were Al's 18th and 19th of the contest.

Speaking of Pajonas, it might be added that for the third straight year he was the supreme threat and scoring star of the team. Despite the fact that every opposing coach directed his defense to keep Al covered like a sucker's bet, he ran up 253 points in 14 games for an average of 18.07 points per game. This left him the third ranking scorer in New England basketball in point of averages. In front of him were Stutz Modzelewski of Rhody, with 454 points in 21 games, for 21.61, and Ziggy Strzlecki of Clark, with 297 in 14, for 21.21. Both Modzelewski and Strzlecki played on teams which, unlike the Huskies, were out to score and score and score.

In actual scoring, Al's 109 field goals and 35 fouls landed him in ninth place among all New England scorers, but since he played in from three to seven games fewer than all the others except Strzlecki he turned in an outstanding job along with his suit.

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

*W*E, the Cauldron Board, are indebted to several persons who have made our work easier in the compilation of Volume XXI.

Professor Everett C. Marston, acting Faculty Adviser to the Cauldron for the ninth consecutive year, has cheerfully devoted countless hours in the interest of this book. His wholehearted co-operation has lightened our load tremendously. To him and the 1943 Cauldron Staff, we offer best wishes for the book which they have already started on.

Russell C. Knight, of the Stobbs Press, receives our thanks for his wealth of experience which he has made available for the layout and design of this book.

Messrs. Waid and Miss Dempsey, of the Waid Studios, receive our sincere thanks and best wishes.

We also express our appreciation to Ernest Zitke, '46E, who has added greatly to this Volume with his pertinent cartoons.

We are indebted to many of the secretaries of the University, particularly Miss Dorothy Peppard of the Student Activities Department, who has given us cheerful and very helpful co-operation throughout the year.

We are also grateful to the Administration which has financed this book and made it available to every senior.
